

UNIVERSIDAD TECNOLÓGICA DEL VALLE DE TOLUCA
DIRECCIÓN DE TECNOLOGÍAS DE LA INFORMACIÓN Y COMUNICACIÓN
INSTRUMENTO DE EVALUACIÓN

EVALUACIÓN:

Diagnóstica

☐

Formativa

☒

Final

☐

Global extraordinaria

☐

ASIGNATURA: Inglés IX

DOCENTE:

GRUPO:

FECHA:

ESTUDIANTE:

CHECKLIST

The following checklist provides total confidence to the spoken simulation evaluated through a Speaking rubric.

Aspects to consider	Grade	Done	Not Done	Autonomous	Outstanding	Satisfactory	Fail
Use of Language I can have a conversation with a friend (asking and answering questions) about my travel experience while I was on holidays and give at least seven reasons why I would like to look for a job abroad.	3.5
Vocabulary I know and use enough vocabulary to talk about my travel experience while I was on holidays and give at least seven reasons why I would like to look for a job abroad. I feel comfortable using the vocabulary because I have a wide range of words related to the topic.	3.5
I can pronounce well all statements and I can give appropriate pronunciation and intonation. I can give suitable stress to words.	3.0

Comments:

LANGUAGES FACULTY (UTVT)		APPROVED BY: M. en T.I. Carlos Millán Hinojosa
RUBRIC	SIMULATION	DATE:
LANGUAGE STRUCTURE	Present Perfect and Simple Past	FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT
FUNCTION	I can have a job interview explaining why I am the best candidate for the position I am applying for by answering at least ten questions.	GROUP:

Sec	ITEMS	(A) AUTONOMOUS 10	(O) OUTSTANDING 9	(S) SATISFACTORY 8	(F) FAIL LESS THAN 8
1	USE OF LANGUAGE	I can have a job interview explaining why I am the best candidate for the position I am applying for by answering at least eight questions. E.g. A: How did you hear about the position? B: Well, I have recently finished my TSU degree and I have always wanted to be part of a top-notch company like this, so when I read about the position I decided to apply. A: Ok, can you tell me a little about yourself? B: Sure, I'm an X technician. I studied at UTVT, I have been in charge of some important projects during my internship and I can manage different situations at work with patience and responsibility. A: Good. What are your greatest professional strengths? B: I don't know something that I should know, I do everything to learn and solve the situation as soon as possible. I'm a reliable person, any time someone asks me to perform a task, they can count on me to do it. A: That's good to hear. And what do you consider to be your weaknesses? B: I have to admit that sometimes I cannot tolerate people who don't do their jobs well, and I tell them what I think about their performance. I think I'm too honest. A: Okay, let's continue with the next question. How would your boss and co-workers describe you? B: I'm sure my teachers will say I am organized. My tutor would say I am positive and enthusiastic. I was the one who motivated my team to finish our project on time at work. My colleagues think I am generous and self-motivated because I am always learning something to do my best at work. A: Tell me about a challenge or conflict you've faced at work, and how you dealt with it. B: Once I struggled with visitors from other countries. It was difficult to understand what they were saying. I just guessed what they wanted. It was a bit overwhelming but then I decided it was time to get more serious about my language classes. A: That's good. How do you deal with pressure or stressful situations? B: Well, I prioritize all the activities I have to carry out. I remember that once I had a month to finish a project, and what I did was to decide what the most important point to do first was, and then the same with the rest. A: Ok, final question. Why should we hire you? B: Excellent question. These told you what personal skills I can bring.	I can have a job interview explaining why I am the best candidate for the position I am applying for by answering at least seven questions. I have a little hesitation. E.g. A: How did you hear about the position? B: Then... Well, I have recently finished my TSU degree and I have always wanted to be part of a top-notch company like this, so when I read about the position I decided to apply. A: Ok, can you tell me a little about yourself? B: Mmmmm... I'm an X technician. I studied at UTVT, I have been in charge of some important projects during my practices, and I can manage different situations at work with patience and responsibility. A: Good. What are your greatest professional strengths? B: I'm a reliable person. A: That's good to hear. And what do you consider to be your weaknesses? B: I admit that sometimes I cannot tolerate people who don't do their jobs well, and I tell them what I think about their performance. I think I'm too honest. A: Tell me about a challenge or conflict you've faced at work, and how you dealt with it. B: Once we had visitors from other countries. It was difficult to understand what they were saying. I just guessed what they wanted. It was a bit overwhelming but then I decided it was time to get more serious about my language classes. A: That's good. How do you deal with pressure or stressful situations? B: Mmm... well, I prioritize all the activities I have to carry out. I can accomplish them successfully. I remember that once I had a month to finish a project, and what I did was to decide what the most important point to do first was, and then the same with the rest. A: Ok, final question. Why should we hire you? B: I will exceed your expectations. I can deliver great results and I really fit in with the team and culture.	I can have a job interview explaining why I am the best candidate for the position I am applying for by answering at least six questions. I have a little hesitation and I have to use memorized phrases. E.g. A: How did you hear about the position? B: Then... Well, I finished my TSU and I want to be part of a top-notch company like this, so when I read about the position I decided to apply. A: Ok, can you tell me a little about yourself? B: Mmmmm... I'm an X technician. I studied at UTVT, I have been in charge of some important projects during my practices, and I can manage different situations at work with patience and responsibility. A: Good. What are your greatest professional strengths? B: I'm a reliable person. A: That's good to hear. And what do you consider to be your weaknesses? B: Mmmmm... I think I'm too honest. A: Tell me about a challenge or conflict you've faced at work, and how you dealt with it. B: Mmm... I don't know. A: That's good. How do you deal with pressure or stressful situations? B: Mmm... well, I prioritize all the activities I can accomplish them successfully. A: Ok, final question. Why should we hire you? B: I'm good for the position.	I can have a job interview explaining why I am the best candidate for the position I am applying for by answering less than six questions. I have too much hesitation even to memorized phrases and I use some words and expressions in Spanish. E.g. A: How did you hear about the position? B: Then... Well... I finished my TSU, I read about the position and that's it. A: Ok, can you tell me a little about yourself? B: Mmmmm... I'm an X TSU, I studied at UTVT. A: Ok, what are your greatest professional strengths? B: I mean and solve the situation fast. A: That's good to hear. And what do you consider to be your weaknesses? B: Mmmmm... I don't know. A: Tell me about a challenge or conflict you've faced at work, and how you dealt with it. B: Mmmmm... I don't remember one. A: How do you deal with pressure or stressful situations? B: Then... well, I prioritize all the activities I have to carry out so I can accomplish them successfully. A: Ok, final question. Why should we hire you? B: Because I am good.
2	VOCABULARY	I know and use enough vocabulary to talk about my travel experience while I was on holidays and give at least seven reasons why I would like to look for a job abroad. I feel comfortable using the vocabulary because I have a wide range of words related to the topic.	I know and use enough vocabulary to talk about my travel experience while I was on holidays and give at least six reasons why I would like to look for a job abroad, but I sometimes feel limited because of lack of words.	I know basic vocabulary to talk about my travel experience while I was on holidays and give at least five reasons why I would like to look for a job abroad, but I can convey my ideas.	I know words that are similar to Spanish but I am limited to convey my ideas when I try to talk about my travel experience while I was on holidays and give at least seven reasons why I would like to look for a job abroad. I frequently feel limited because of lack of words.
3	PRONUNCIATION	I can pronounce well all statements and I can give appropriate pronunciation and intonation. I can give suitable stress to words.	I can pronounce words quite well, but I need to improve my fluency and intonation.	My pronunciation and stress is influenced by Spanish but it doesn't block or interfere in my communication.	My pronunciation is difficult to understand and I can't link complete statements.

EVALUACIÓN:
ASIGNATURA: INGLÉS IX
ESTUDIANTE: _____

Diagnóstica ☐ DOCENTE: _____

Formativa ☒ X

Final ☐

Global extraordinaria ☐

GRUPO: _____

FECHA: _____

SPEAKING

FUNCTION: I can have a conversation with a friend to talk about my travel experience while I was on holidays and give at least seven reasons why I would like to look for a job abroad.

ITEMS	AUTONOMOUS From 1 to 2 mistakes	OUTSTANDING From 3 to 4 mistakes	SATISFACTORY From 5 to 6 mistakes	FAIL More than 6 mistakes
USE OF LANGUAGE	I can have a conversation with a friend (asking and answering questions) about my travel experience while I was on holidays and give at least seven reasons why I would like to look for a job abroad. E.g A- where did you go last holidays? B- I went to Germany last year, it was an excellent trip, I realized I can look for a job there. A- Seriously? Why would you like to work there? B- There are several benefits, for example, if you work in a multinational company here, you can get promoted and move abroad, some companies offer free housing. A- That sounds difficult. How do you know you are suitable for a position abroad? B- Well, that depends on your skills. You have to be reliable, organized, hardworking, etc. A- Ok, I think I have some of those skills B- You should consider working abroad. You can improve your language level, and meet a lot of new people, you can try new things like the food or cultural activities in the country you like. A- I have always had good communication skills. I'm a sales rep. Do you think I can have a work opportunity overseas? B- Sure, you are a good fit for a position as an international sales rep. You can even take your family with you, that's another benefit. And your children will be able to attend private schools there. A- Thank you, you have encouraged me to try that experience. B- Sure, you are very skilled and talented, let me know what you decide. A- I will, thank you.	I can have a conversation with a friend (asking and answering questions) about my travel experience while I was on holidays and give at least six reasons why I would like to look for a job abroad. I have a little hesitation. E.g A- where you go last holidays? B- I went to Germany last year, it was an excellent trip, I realized I can look for a job there. A- Seriously? Why you like to work there? B- There are several benefits, for example, if you work in a multinational company here, you can get promoted and move abroad, some companies offer free housing. A- That sounds difficult. How do you know you are suitable for a position abroad? B- Well, that depends on your skills. You have to be reliable, organized, hardworking, etc. A- Ok, I think I have some skills B- You should consider working abroad. You can improve your language level, and meet a lot of new people, you can try new things like the food or cultural activities in the country you like. A- I have always have good communication skills. I'm a sales rep. Do you think I can have a work opportunity overseas? B- Sure, you are a good fit for a position as an international sales rep. You can even take your family with you, as an international sales rep, you can take your family with you. A- Ok, thank you.	I can have a conversation with a friend (just answering questions) about my travel experience while I was on holidays and give at least five reasons why I would like to look for a job abroad. I have a little hesitation and I have to use memorized phrases. E.g A- where you go last holidays? B- I went to Germany last year, it was an excellent trip, I realized I can look for a job there. A- Seriously? Why you like to work there? B- There are some benefits, for example, some companies offer free housing. A- That sounds difficult. How do you know you are good for a position abroad? B- Well, You have to be reliable, organized, hardworking, etc. A- Ok, I think I have some skills B- You should consider working abroad. You can improve your language level, and meet a lot of new people, you can try new things like the food or cultural activities in the country you like. A- I have always have good communication skills. I'm a sales rep. Do you think I can have a work opportunity overseas? B- Sure, you are good for a position as an international sales rep. You can even take your family with you.	I can have a conversation with a friend (not asking or answering questions) about my travel experience while I was on holidays and give less than five reasons why I would like to look for a job abroad. I have too much hesitation even in memorized phrases and I use some words and expressions in Spanish E.g A- where you go last holidays? B- I went to Germany, it was excellent trip, I can to work there. A- Seriously? Why you like there? B- There are benefits, for example, some companies offer house free. A- That sounds difficult. How you know you are good for a position? B- Well, You are reliable, organized, hardworking, etc. A- Ok, I think I have skills B- You should consider work abroad. You can meet a lot of new people, you can try new things like the food or cultural activities in the country you like. A- I have always have good communication skills, I'm a sales rep. Do you think I can have a work opportunity there? B- Sure, you are good for a position as an international sales rep. You can travel with your family.

VOCABULARY	I know and use enough vocabulary to talk about my travel experience while I was on holidays and give at least seven reasons why I would like to look for a job abroad. I feel comfortable using the vocabulary because I have a wide range of words related to the topic.	I know and use enough vocabulary to talk about my travel experience while I was on holidays and give at least six reasons why I would like to look for a job abroad, but I sometimes feel limited because of lack of words.	I know basic vocabulary to talk about my travel experience while I was on holidays and give at least five reasons why I would like to look for a job abroad, but I can convey my ideas.	I know words that are similar to Spanish but I am limited to convey my ideas when I try to talk about my travel experience while I was on holidays and give at least seven reasons why I would like to look for a job abroad I frequently feel limited because of lack of words.
PRONUNCIATION	I can pronounce well all statements and I can give appropriate pronunciation and intonation. I can give suitable stress to words.	I can pronounce words quite well, but I need to improve my fluency and intonation.	My pronunciation and stress in influenced by Spanish but it doesn't block or interfere in my communication.	My pronunciation is difficult to understand and I can't link complete statements.